TUCKER'S POINT

Bermuda, an island paradise floating in a mineral-rich sea, has long been a destination for weary travelers to escape the madding crowd and allow their burdens of stress to be carried away on pure ocean breezes.

The Spanish explorer, Juan de Bermudez, gave his name to the island in the 1500's; but it was shipwrecked English colonists, bound for Jamestown in 1609, who became the Island's first settlers. The unique abundance of tropical plants, flowers and ocean minerals became their apothecary for health and wellness. In time, as Bermuda's nautical heritage begat fast and sturdy sloops that plied trade throughout the Americas and Caribbean, sailor's brought home medicinal techniques and ceremonies from around the world.

Tucker's Point Spa draws on this legacy of healing, ceremony and wellness. You are invited on a holistic journey to peace of mind, body and spirit, through international rituals and therapies. Let us begin our venture....
